

SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR DETERMINING FLIGHT CANCELLATIONS

ABSTRACT

A method for determining flight cancellations includes the steps of obtaining flight financial data from at least one flight financial data store for at least two flight cancellation candidates. The flight financial data is processed for the flight cancellation candidates and the financial data for the flight cancellation candidates can be presented. The method further can include canceling at least one of the flight cancellation candidates based upon the presented financial data responsive to a user selection.
